To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to highly recommend Anton Gorjunow for any opportunity in the field of Android development. As the Lead Android Developer, me and my team had the pleasure of working together with Anton. Thus, I can confidently say that he is fast learning, highly engaged and overall a very motivated developer.

Anton quickly adapted to our development style and tech stack involved. Furthermore, he was able to take on increasingly complex tasks with ease and always thought along the entire process. Especially his ability to learn new technologies and design patterns was magnificent and he consistently delivered excellent work. Most recently, he was working on implementing and transitioning to Jetpack Compose, where he was able to show these very strengths.

Despite working independently in a full remote position, he had no problems in resolving his tasks or any other matter. Anton was showing great dedication. Even under strict time constraints, he always completed on time and with a consistent quality result.

As a team member, Anton was valuable due to his positive attitude, and honesty. He was always willing to help his colleagues and contributed towards an enjoyable and productive work atmosphere. Furthermore, he didn't hesitate to share productive thoughts and additions that contributed towards our established Android App.

It is with great regret that Anton must leave our team, but I am confident that he will be an asset to any organization that he joins. I wholeheartedly recommend Anton for any opportunity in the field of Android development and believe that he will be a valuable addition to any team.
